2013 Conference on Applied Foreign Language Studies: Languages, Content-Based Instruction and Cultures

Call for Papers

2013 Conference on Applied Foreign Language Studies (CAFLS) is an annual event jointly organized by Department of Applied Foreign Languages and Language Center, Chien Hsin University of Science and Technology. CAFLS invites submissions on content-based instruction, literary studies applied in ESL curricula, translation, linguistic studies and interdisciplinary studies on languages and cultures. We offer a forum for scholars to exchange opinions of tendencies of tertiary foreign language and culture education within the framework of globalization in hope of shedding some light on these issues.

Please send an English or Japanese abstract of 250-300 words in either MLA or APA formats with a list of keywords and brief CV (one paragraph identifying your name, title, institutional affiliation, areas of interests, and contact info) to Dr. Charles Zhengwei Chen (bluemoon@uch.edu.tw). All abstracts should be submitted in Microsoft Word compatible formats (*.doc or *.docx) through email and will be double-blindly reviewed by two professional reviewers. The accepted papers will both be presented in the conference and later published in Chien Hsin Journal of Applied Foreign Language Studies (ISSN 2220-1742).

Conference topics may include, but are by no means limited to:

1. English(es) for specific purposes
2. Literary studies applied in TESL
3. Teaching English, Japanese or other foreign languages as a second language
4. Interdisciplinary studies on languages and cultures
5. Studies on cultural creative industry
6. Translation in English, Japanese or other foreign languages
7. Teaching Chinese as a Second Language
8. Linguistics
