7. Comparative studies of literatures and cultures in different countries
8. Unique problems in Translating Taiwanese language
9. Language planning for Loanwords
10. Any other topics related to conference theme

General submission guidelines:

1. Abstracts for forum, oral and poster presentations are all invited and welcome. Details are as follows:
 - a) Translator's Forum: The main purpose for this forum is to provide a panel for translators to solve pragmatic problems they have met when translating Taiwanese literature. The potential presenters include translators, authors or publishers who have had pragmatic experiences of translating Taiwanese literature. Up to 10 presenters will be accepted. Time for each presentation is about 15~20 minutes. It is not limited to academic papers.
 - b) Research papers for oral presentation: Any research papers related to the conference theme are welcome. Up to 12 papers will be accepted. Each paper is allowed 20 minutes for oral presentation and additional 10 minutes for discussions. Submission of the full paper is required. The appropriate length of paper is from 8,000 to 10,000 words.

c) Poster presentations: Any research papers related to the conference theme are welcome. The number of papers to be accepted is dependent on the space of conference venue. Each paper will have a space of 80cm x 120cm for presentation.

2. Please submit abstracts through electronic submission form on conference website. Once submitted, no changes are allowed in the abstract.
3. Submitted abstracts will be peer reviewed. The conference organizers will send out the results of the reviews by the deadline of notification. Prospective presenters must register before registration deadline or her/his papers will be canceled.
4. Presenters for oral presentation have to submit their full papers in accordance with the writing format provided by the conference organizers. Both Word and PDF forms are required for all the papers. Please also provide a hardcopy should you have any specific fonts in your paper. The presenters may not be eligible for presentation or subsidization in the case that they do not provide full paper in time or if their papers are not in the designated writing format.
5. The papers presented in the conference are given the priority to be published in the Journal of Taiwanese Vernacular after the conference has taken place. For those who wish to publish their paper(s), please provide a revised full paper as soon as possible after conference. For detailed information on the Journal, please visit the website at <<http://ctlt.twl.ncku.edu.tw/jotv.html>>
6. The conventional languages for presentation in the conference include English, Chinese and Taiwanese. Nevertheless, it is kindly suggested that presenters provide an additional English abstract, outline or PPT if their papers are presented in languages other than English.
7. Only traditional POJ and MOE's Tai-lo Pheng-im are accepted for Taiwanese Romanization. DoulosSIL Unicode font is recommended for IPA transcription.
8. Keynote speakers, forum presenters, and oral presenters will be provided free accommodations, travel grants and honorariums. Poster presenters will be provided lunch and dinner for the duration of the conference.
