

Be Young! Beyond! Startup Bootcamp Regulations

I. Objective

Facing the reform of global supply chains and the rise of emerging markets, Taiwan has to relocate its character in the developing region. By the implement of the New Southbound Policy, it is expected to extend essential communications between colleges and universities in Taiwan, the ASEAN and South Asian countries. The interactions will be deepened on both sides while creating a win-win talent cultivation and regional economic development for education and economy.

NTUST accepted the engagement of “Be Young! Beyond! Startup Bootcamp” organized by the Youth Development Administration, Ministry of Education this year. Innovative talents in colleges and universities from new southbound countries are welcome to Taiwan to interchange knowledge of innovation, entrepreneurship as well as technical studies. A series of solid training courses are designed to expand the international vision and participation in global issues while inspiring the transnational innovative ideas for the youth from universities and colleges, which contribute to the connections of innovative talents in the ASEAN, South Asian countries, and America to apply learned skills on entrepreneurship.

The top 3 winners of this bootcamp will win the high prize money. The 1st prize winner will also enjoy professional follow-up counseling services, preferences for incubation space, and Entrepreneur Visa service assistance. With the NTUST professional systemized counseling, the research outcome of the winning teams will be concretized and commercialized as well. By the corporation collaboration, imported funds and the linkage with domestic or abroad accelerators, it can not only connect Taiwan students to the global network but attract more superior foreign students come to Taiwan to start their business and contribute to the development of international entrepreneurship effectively.
